MHPCG - MAY 21, 2022 - WORKSHOP

MHPCG is excited to announce that Jana Roberts Benzon will be presenting a workshop entitled “Creature Feature” for us, on May 21, 2022. Her techniques will work for jewelry and various other polymer clay designs. Watch for information and reminders; also check the guild web site MHPCG.org

GUILD DEMOS

Bertha presented a demo at our January meeting, inspired by an earlier article in Jewelry Craft Magazine, using polymer clay on fabric. Bertha demonstrated how to put cloth and clay together through the pasta machine and make them into various shapes, that can then be baked.

JANUARY – MARCH 2022 NEWSLETTER

Our February clay day demo was by one of our new members, Diane H. She had prepared a box for the IPCA competition, using a tin as the base; she then explained how to accomplish this. Diane also did a demonstration of how to make a round box, completely out of polymer clay; she says anyone can do it!

In March, new member Gael presented a demonstration on the creation of polymer clay bugs. She says she is called the “Bug Lady” because she has made so many bugs! Gael also showed us how she controls her Natasha blends, to make more beautiful bug backs; also the way she creates the wings and beading on her fancier creatures.

Members can find these demos on our web site, in the "members only" area, for review.

Be sure to set yourself up with a member password, on MHPCG.org, to watch these, and previous clay guild demos.

Clayathon was on Zoom again and Loretta Lam gave a presentation all 3 days on design and techniques. Loretta also showed participants how to do the black/white/grey cane used in the picture to the far right. Breakout rooms were available for the registration fee, where participants could meet with others, interested in a particular topic; they could also go between breakout rooms to see what was offered. Participants could also take workshops for additional fees.
